1 View Customer Accounts

View Anticipated Aid at the bottom of the screen provides information about future financial aid.

Financial aid is typically granted on a yearly basis; however, the total amount awarded is divided and posted separately to the fall and spring semesters. Click View Anticipated Aid to see financial aid awarded but not yet posted to the student account. This screen shows the Apply Date – the date the aid is expected to post to the account.

Note: The View Anticipated Aid link is not visible when no financial aid is pending.

2 Account Flags & FERPA

A Negative Service Indicator details negative status of the account. Some of these indicators are generated automatically, some are entered manually. C01 – C12 are the most common indicators affecting student accounts.

All Negative Service Indicators place a hold on the account until resolved, restricting service from transcript denial up to all registration and charge abilities.

The Cashiers' Office can temporarily remove a hold to buy books, register for class, etc. Students are typically given 1-2hrs, and the hold is put back on.

A Positive Service Indicator details positive status of the account. These indicators are entered manually.

Note: Attachment B identifies all the service indicators.

These additional comment fields require security access to add and view:

- - 'Communications' is not used much.
- - 'Checklists' is used by Financial Aid.
- - 'Comments' is used by different departments.

5 Payments – Third Party

Some payments are made by Third Parties. They are easily identified under Account Details because the item starts 'Bill ...'.

The student provides a letter to the Cashiers' Office from the third party outlining the authorized payment. The Cashiers' Office posts the credit to the student account (as seen below) and then bills the third party for payment.

6
Financial Aid

Note: A credit balance on a student account automatically triggers a refund unless the student requests the credit remain on the account.

Direct Deposit refunds typically post to the student bank account 3-5 days after the refund is processed. A mailed refund typically takes 1-2 weeks. Students are encouraged to sign up for Direct Deposit in myZou.

Note: Most financial aid refunds go directly to the student. The one exception is the Parent Federal Direct Loan, also known as the Parent Plus Program. When this loan is on the account, any financial aid refunds go to the parent first, up to that loan amount. However, the parent can sign papers to say any refund goes to the student.
